

Have Microsoft Credits? Get Free Services!

If your organization has an Enterprise Agreement with Microsoft, be sure to take advantage of the free consulting services that might be available to you. With the Microsoft Software Assurance Consulting Credits benefit, you get planning or training days which you can convert to SQL Server Deployment Planning Services (SSDPS) credits. The credit value is based on the number of qualifying Office and/or Windows licenses covered by your annual contract with Microsoft. As a Microsoft Gold Partner and premier BI firm, Prologika can use these credits to deliver consulting services to help you plan and implement your BI solution, including:

- Analyze your current environment and determine a vision for a business intelligence solution
- Define a plan to launch a BI reporting and analysis solution
- Upgrade or migrate to SQL Server on premises or cloud
- Implement pilots, proof of concepts
- Train or mentor your staff

How does it work?

The Planning Services credits entitle you to receive consulting services from Prologika for a specific number of days. The number of days awarded varies by product and by the number of qualifying licenses for which Software Assurance is acquired. Your Software Assurance Benefits Administrator assigns credits to designated individuals on the Microsoft Volume License Services \(MVLS\) Web site.

The right to access the credit benefit expires with your annual contract with Microsoft, which typically coincides with the end of your organization's fiscal year. If you have activated the credits and reserved them with a qualified partner before the expiration of your coverage, the credits will be valid for 180 days after the date it was created. Credits not reserved with a qualified partner before the end of your Software Assurance coverage will expire and be forfeited, so be sure to use them!

Who is Eligible?

The following Volume Licensing programs are eligible for this benefit:

- Open Value
- Open Value Company-wide
- Open Value Subscription
- Select License Software Assurance Membership
