Have Software Assurance? Use Your Vouchers!

Many Microsoft License packages include the option for Microsoft Software Assurance. If your organization has an Enterprise Agreement, or have purchased Software Assurance with your current license package, be sure to take advantage of the free consulting services available to your organization.

With the Microsoft Software Assurance Consulting Vouchers benefit, you receive 3-day, 5-day, 10-day, or 15-day vouchers for SQL Server Deployment Planning Services (SSDPS) and SharePoint Deployment Planning Services (SDPS). The number of days is based on the number of qualifying Office and/or Windows licenses covered with Software Assurance. As a Microsoft Gold Partner and premier BI firm, Prologika can use these vouchers to deliver consulting services to help you plan and implement your BI solution, including:

- Analyze your current environment and determine a vision for a business intelligence solution
- Define a plan to launch a BI reporting and analysis solution
- Upgrading or migrating to SQL Server 2012
- Implementing SharePoint Business Intelligence

If you have training vouchers, you can also convert unused training days and apply them toward the Planning Services Software Assurance benefits.

How does it work?

The Planning Services vouchers entitle you to receive consulting services from Prologika for a specific number of days. The number of days awarded varies by product and by the number of qualifying licenses for which Software Assurance is acquired. Your Software Assurance Benefits Administrator assigns vouchers to designated individuals on the Microsoft Volume License Services (MVLS) Web site. The right to access the voucher benefit expires with your Software Assurance coverage. If you have activated a voucher and reserved it with a qualified partner before the expiration of your Software Assurance coverage, the voucher will be valid for 180 days after the date it was created. Vouchers not reserved with a qualified partner before the end of your Software Assurance coverage will expire and be forfeited, so be sure to use them!
